DESCRIPTION OF NAJAD 380

The boat exudes quality and is a prime example of a true Orust-built yacht. Below deck, the comfort level is high, and the mahogany interior is of absolute top-class craftsmanship.

The saloon features a large folding table and comfortable sofas, which can be converted into two extra berths if needed and also serve as sea berths.

To starboard at the companionway, there is a light toilet with a shower. There is also a drying cabinet for wet clothes etc. Forward of the toilet is the navigation station, which nowadays is often used as an "onboard office."

The longitudinal galley is located in the passageway aft and is well-equipped with a gas stove and oven, two deep sinks, a large and easily accessible fridge, and plenty of smart storage spaces.

The forward cabin offers a double berth and ample storage space.

At the stern, the spacious owner's cabin features a wide double berth, an additional berth, and plenty of storage solutions.

The comfortable centre cockpit provides weather protection behind the fixed windscreen. The entire crew fits on the long benches surrounding the removable table.

The deck layout is well-planned for fast yet manageable sailing, even with a small crew, thanks to the furling mast.

The large engine compartment, which also houses other technology, makes servicing convenient.

This Najad 380 is in excellent condition, well-equipped, and has no groundings or other notable damages.

It is being sold by its first owner and has always been winter-stored in a heated hall.
