DESCRIPTION OF DEHLER 36 JV

The Dehler 36 JV from 2005 is an exclusive German sailing yacht designed by the renowned Judel & Vrolijk. The model is known for combining high performance, fast sailing, and outstanding comfort – perfect for both racing and cruising.

This fast and stiff sailing yacht has a modern and well-balanced design with spacious interiors. Onboard there is a well-equipped galley, a large saloon, and a spacious toilet with shower, offering great comfort even on longer voyages. The boat offers six comfortable berths, a modern interior, and a practical navigation station.

This particular example was built during the same period as the new Dehler 36 SQ was introduced and therefore has many of the SQ model's improvements. Among other things, there are additional reinforcements that result in an approximately 200 kg lighter hull as well as a tapered mast from Seldén for improved sailing performance.

The boat also features an updated sail wardrobe with most sails in carbon fiber from UK Sails, further enhancing the sailing experience.
