DESCRIPTION OF ASPECT 45

Aspect 45 – Uncompromising Performance Meets Luxury and Comfort

The Aspect 45 is undoubtedly one of the most advanced and technologically innovative sailing yachts on the market. This Swedish creation is an uncompromising combination of a thoroughbred racer and a comfortable family cruiser. By incorporating advanced technology inspired by the aerospace and luxury yacht industries, the Aspect 45 offers a sailing experience that is truly exceptional.

Comfort & Design – The Best of Both Worlds

Despite its uncompromising performance and clear racing DNA, the Aspect 45 has been designed to also function as a comfortable and exclusive family yacht. Below deck, you are welcomed by a spacious and inviting environment offering a high level of comfort after a long day on the water.

What Makes the Aspect 45 Unique

Full Carbon Fibre Construction Using Prepreg Technology and Oven Curing
The hull, rig and interior are constructed in carbon fibre, resulting in extremely low weight combined with superior stiffness and strength.

Built to Withstand Extreme Loads
The construction, featuring longitudinal stringers and transverse bulkheads, creates an exceptionally strong, lightweight and stiff yacht. The result is a highly efficient combination of low weight and high structural strength.

Outstanding Sailing Performance

Revolutionary Keel Design
The hydraulically operated lifting keel can rotate through a full 92° and is easily adjusted while sailing. The design provides maximum righting moment and contributes to impressive upwind performance and overall sailing characteristics.

Sleek and Powerful
Despite its sleek profile and tall racing rig, the Aspect 45 is surprisingly easy to sail. The yacht is equally inspiring to sail single-handed or with a full crew.

Innovation & Sustainability

Modern Hybrid Propulsion
The Aspect 45 is equipped with a modern and environmentally conscious hybrid propulsion system, enabling quiet and emission-free manoeuvring in harbour.

Groundbreaking Technology
On board are a range of advanced technical solutions and luxury-yacht-inspired details that are highly unusual in a 45-foot sailing yacht. Here, extreme performance is combined with comfort, innovation and modern technology in a way that makes the Aspect 45 truly exceptional.

Summary

The Aspect 45 has been created for those who refuse to choose between performance and comfort. With its advanced carbon fibre construction, innovative keel system, tall racing rig and modern hybrid propulsion, she offers a unique combination of extreme sailing performance and exclusive family accommodation.

A Swedish high-tech sailing yacht for those looking for something truly unique.
